Library Tips: Paying off Fees at home

While the Orange City Public Library does not charge late fees, there may be a few reasons for a balance on your account. You may request for printing, disc cleaning, or other service charges to be added. Or you may be charged for the replacement of a lost or damaged material. You may pay off these charges at your convenience, right from home! Simply log in to the catalog using your card number and phone number, select "My Account" on the right hand corner, and follow the prompts when you select "Pay ____ with a credit card online."
