If you're looking for a book that our library does not have, we may be able to borrow it from another library for you! This Interlibrary Loan Lending (ILL), which is available for Orange City and rural Sioux County residents, now delivers to us by courier twice a week. Books shared within Iowa are free to our patrons, books from other states will require a $3 postage fee.

Log in to your account in our catalog to get started, then click the 'My Account' button, then the 'Reserves/Requests' tab to see where you can make a request.

NEW BOOKS AT THE ORANGE CITY PUBLIC LIBRARY

Something for everyone,
come check
us out.

Dear Readers,

What exactly is intellectual freedom in the library? After all, it is the foundation of library services. This week we celebrate intellectual freedom by recognizing and affirming our freedom to read.

The concepts underlying intellectual freedom include advocating for the right to find, evaluate and use information; developing collections that are varied in both content and format; addressing the information needs of individuals within a community; providing access to materials and resources; and safeguarding the privacy and confidentiality of library records as well as copyrights.

This tenet of library service is not arbitrary. It is founded in one of our most basic rights as United States citizens, the First Amendment. Exercise your right to read today by visiting us here at the library.

Peace be with you,
